bach_prelude

♩ = 218

The image displays an auto-scored musical score for a piece titled "bach_prelude". The score is written on six staves, each beginning with a treble clef. The first staff includes a tempo marking "♩ = 218" and a question mark "?". The notation consists of various note values, including eighth and sixteenth notes, and rests, arranged in a complex, non-standard manner that appears to be an automated transcription of a musical score.
